MY TRIP TO ENGLAND & WALES

By Mr. Price Jones, taken from His Diary

On August 3rd, I arrived in Letchworth, some thirty miles northwest of London, where a nephew took me in hand. Letchworth is the first garden city that was built in Great Britain. That is, a city planned so that there is a plot of land around each home so that residents may grow their own garden stuffs. The streets are wide and houses are built more or less like those in this country. All factories and houses will in some way have the smoke problem done away with. All buildings are under the control of the City Engineering Dept. and no one is allowed to buy land and build on it in such a way.

What has the Bible to say about these things? We venture to say that what the historians, scientists, and infidels saw, the Bible predicts that it will come and nothing will prevent it.

Dr. Lewis believes that we will probably see this totalitarian world state within the next ten to twenty years when this world will be ruled over and governed by the totalitarian of men and man begin to rule absolutely on the face of the earth. He is called the Anti-Christ. Dr.

Lewis also believes that the reign of the Anti-Christ will be short lived and will finally be destroyed by the personal appearing of the Lord Jesus Christ who will establish His throne on the earth and thereby make a reality of what the historian, the scientist and the infidel for saw.

The next day we spent most of our time viewing the new town of Stevenage. This is a town being built for a number of factories which will be manufacturing nearly every type of machinery known to man. When completed in two years, it is estimated that the town will employ from 40,000 to 60,000 people. Stevenage is being built in three parts—industrial, housing and recreational. The industrial area is separated from the rest by a large tract of land. The industrial area is being built from the most modern plans. The recreation area will include churches, schools, playgrounds and parks. This town, about 35 miles northwest of London, is expected to relieve some of the congestion of the capital city. Stevenage is to have its own shopping centre (it now has 168 stores and is only half completed) and its own hospitals.

The day after we spent most of our time viewing the new town of Stevenage. This is a town being built for a number of factories which will be manufacturing nearly every type of machinery known to man. When completed in two years, it is estimated that the town will employ from 40,000 to 60,000 people. Stevenage is being built in three parts—industrial, housing and recreational. The industrial area is separated from the rest by a large tract of land. The industrial area is being built from the most modern plans. The recreation area will include churches, schools, playgrounds and parks. This town, about 35 miles northwest of London, is expected to relieve some of the congestion of the capital city. Stevenage is to have its own shopping centre (it now has 168 stores and is only half completed) and its own hospitals.

News Report From Edmonton

By Ken Mason

EDMONTON — The government may be getting ready for another attempt to sell municipalities on the idea of a provincial industrial tax.

If the attempt is successful, there could be legislation next year to take industrial taxation out of the hands of the municipalities and to establish a uniform provincial tax.

Word has it that the government is ready and willing to go ahead, but it doesn't want to force the issue on the municipalities. There's a possibility that the matter will be discussed this week at the annual convention of the Union of Alberta Municipalities.

Municipal Affairs Minister Alf Hooke and Provincial Treasurer Ted Hinman will both be addressing the convention. Asked about the matter last week, both ministers said the proposed provincial tax on industries is anything but a dead issue. Mr. Hinman said the government hopes the municipalities will come around to favoring the idea.

A provincial industrial tax has been under discussion periodically since about five years ago when the Legislature adopted a Social Credit resolution that the matter be investigated.

Government people who favor the idea advance a number of arguments. They say it would provide for uniform taxation throughout the province, and would eliminate competition between municipalities to attract industry.

Some ministers also feel that high taxes are frightening industry away from Alberta. There's a suggestion that the provincial scheme would result in an overall reduction in the industrial tax bill. This, of course, would mean reduced municipal revenue which would have to be made up somehow.

If the scheme is ever adopted, the government would set up uniform assessment and taxation and distribute the money to the municipalities. The biggest share of revenue from any one industry would go to the municipal body which provides services to that industry.

If the matter is raised at the municipal convention, there will be some strong opposition to the idea. Edmonton, for example, is opposed to the principle.

Premier Manning gave a hint of government's attitude last week when a delegation from the Alberta Chamber of Commerce presented a brief to the cabinet. Discussing the question of industrial taxation, he said the government favors a tax structure that will not be an obstacle to industry entering Alberta. He added that taxes should not favor any one area of the province over others.

ALBERTA'S IRRIGATION POLICIES may be in for major changes as a result of a report submitted to the government by a five-member committee which studied all phases of irrigation.

The 30-page report was released by the government last week. It calls for formation of a planning board which would study all angles before any new irrigation project is started or any existing project expanded.

It also urged a study of the province's future water needs for irrigation, domestic use and industry, and recommended that the federal government be encouraged to develop upstream storage reservoirs on interprovincial rivers. The committee called for establishment of a separate irrigation branch within the department of agriculture, and suggested that the present water resources branch become a part of the department of lands and forests.

The committee suggests the existing crown corporations which administer the province's irrigation projects be reduced in function to the point where they do nothing but provide water to the irrigation districts. The districts themselves would handle other administrative matters.

W. R. Hanson, chief forester for the Eastern Rockies Forest Conservation Board, headed the committee. The report contains 20 separate recommendations.

EARLY START PREDICTED— A heavy schedule of work is building up for the 1959 session of the Legislature, and as a result plans are being made to get it started early. Premier Manning said last week that Thursday, Feb. 5, looks like the probable date. This is about two weeks earlier than usual.

In the past few years, members have been hard-pressed to prorogue the session by Easter. Last year, it took a near-record number of night sittings to push the legislation through, and there were grumblings from the Opposition that important work was being unduly rushed.

Details of the government's five-year plan are expected to provide the fuel for plenty of debate during next year's session. It will be the fifth—and perhaps the last—session of the 13th Legislature. Observers think Premier Manning will probably call an election for next summer.

We haven't heard too much from W. J. C. Kirby since he was named provincial leader of the Progressive Conservatives. But last week he was in Edmonton and unleashed an attack against the government's five-year plan.

The plan, he said, was conceived "in desperation to convince Albertans that all is well." He said it won't be an issue in the next election because all the points of the plan are things the people of Alberta are demanding and things that Opposition political parties have advocated in the past. The plan doesn't solve the problems of education and municipal financing, he said, but is

What Is National Farm Union Week?

National Farm Union Week is the time when all provincial farm unions making up the Interprovincial Farm Union Council, will conduct a concentrated membership campaign.

In addition, the moral support of outside organizations has been sought.

The objective will be to substantially increase the farm union membership from Ontario to British Columbia.

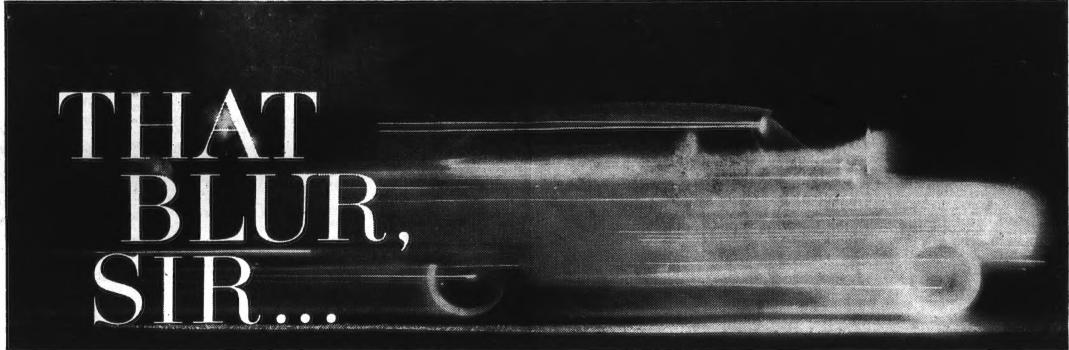

The future of the farmer will depend on the success of the campaign.

Farm union leaders need your numerical and financial support to effectively advance farm union policy to all levels of government and the general public.

All farmers will have the opportunity to support this organization Nov. 3 to 8.

Canada has about 35,000 miles of paved highway and about 44,000 miles of main-track railway line.

intended to divert attention from problems the government hasn't solved.

F.U.A. WEEK, NOVEMBER 3 - 8

This week has been set aside by the F.U.A. for a concerted drive for membership. From the top level to the man on the farm this drive is of the utmost importance and the success attained this week depends not only on the directors and canvassers but the active support and co-operation of the rank and file of all those engaged in agricultural pursuits.

Much valuable legislation has been passed in both the provincial and federal field due to the energy and untiring efforts of the elected officers of the F.U.A. They must ever be on the alert to see that the farmers' interests are given a receptive hearing.

Directly and indirectly the rural centres, and cities too, are affected by the welfare of agriculture which is the basic industry of our province. Through new and improved farming methods, power machinery, the increased use of electrical appliances on farms, and faster modes of transportation and better roads has practically revolutionized the farming industry.

Cleveland, Ohio — Miss Joanne Neff, 18, isn't kidding when she sticks her pretty face under the hood of a car. Not only has she been driving her own cars for three years, she also helps to maintain them. She plans to buy a sports car for racing in coming Akron and Mount Vernon sports events. She is a freshman at John Carroll U. night division.

MR. JOHN GREGOR

Mr. John Gregor has been appointed Northern Alberta organizer for the Progressive Conservative party. Provincial Leader W. J. C. Kirby made this announcement over the weekend.

He will make his headquarters in Edmonton.

Mr. Gregor came to Alberta in his teens and worked as a farm laborer, later farming for many years on his own. He had employment as a miner and in the bush. More recently he has been a carpenter.

From 1952 to 1957 he was Alberta Vice-President of the International Woodworkers of America.

The new organizer will be attached to the staff of the Alberta Co-ordinator, Allan Lazear.

Potatoes are important contributors to the day's requirements of Vitamin C and iron, as well as being good sources of energy. One medium sized potato if properly cooked will supply nearly half of the daily requirement of Vitamin C. Boiled or baked in their skins, potatoes retain a high percentage of minerals and vitamins.

There are many ways of serving potatoes and these are just some ideas:

a. Baked Potatoes: When baked potato is tender, cut in half and scoop out inside, mash with scalded milk, butter, or margarine and add seasonings. Pile lightly back in skins. Reheat in oven until brown, about 10 minutes at 400° F. Cut up weiners or sausages maybe added to the mixture as well.

b. Baked Potatoes: When soft, break open and cut cross in centre of each and place butter or margarine in opening. Dust with paprika or finely chopped parsley.

c. Potato Logs: For variety mix potatoes as for mashed and mix together with beaten egg yolk. Shape into cylinders, roll in finely crushed cornflakes or flaked shredded wheat. Place in greased dish and heat in oven 375° F. for 10-15 minutes. Garnish and serve.

d. Fried Potatoes: Force hot, freshly boiled potatoes through a ricer or coarse strainer. Sprinkle with salt and pepper lightly into a serving dish and dust with paprika or finely chopped parsley.

e. Persillade Potatoes: Finely chopped parsley is dusted over new small sized buttered potatoes. Lemon juice may be added to retain whiteness and for variety in flavor as well.

f. Dutch Potatoes: Scrub medium potatoes. With an apple corer cut a tunnel through the centre of each, lengthwise. Draw a frankfurter or small sausage through the cavity. Place in a shallow baking pan and lay a piece of fat salt pork (optional) on each potato. Bake at 450° F. until tender, about one hour.

g. Potato Pie: Line a greased camembert or a thick dish of well-floured potato. Fill the centre with creamed vegetables, meat, chicken or fish. Cover top with layer of potatoes. Sprinkle with buttered cracker or bread crumble and bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) or about 30 minutes.

These are just a few ideas that one may use. Numerous ideas are presented in the pamphlet "Vegetables Make the Home Plate" and can be obtained from our office free of charge.

The first flag flown in Canada was early England's flag, the red cross of St. George on a white background, later incorporated in the Union Jack.

U.F.A. Co-op President DISCUSSES Farm Organization

Mr. Geo. E. Church, president of U.F.A. Co-op, in a recent interview drew attention to the fact that November 3-9 is National Farm Union Week. He stated that in this drive for membership in the Farmers' Union of Alberta, farmers have the opportunity to show that they are united in their efforts to do something about the Cost-Price squeeze. Mr. Church said he felt it was vital to the welfare of Alberta farmers that an enthusiastic sign-up be made when canvassers call during this week. He stated that the effectiveness of the programs of the F.U.A. for the next 12 months would hinge on the outcome of this membership drive and expressed optimism that the farmers of Alberta would rally to the support of their Union.

The president of U.F.A. Co-op said if he could address the farmers of Alberta personally, his message would be this: "The membership drive during National Farm Union Week is your chance to join your Farmers' Union. It is also your opportunity to sign your authorization for a municipal collection of dues. U.F.A. Co-op strongly urges all farmers and particularly its members to take an active part in National Farm Union Week. Join the Farmers' Union of Alberta. Get your neighbors to join."
